

Media Sciences®

OEM-Compatible New-Build and Remanufactured Toner Cartridges

Huge Savings • Vibrant Color • Great Quality

Why Choose Media Sciences® Toner Cartridges?

Media Sciences products are OEM-compatible new-build and remanufactured toner cartridges. They are available for a large and growing number of monochrome and color printers, enabling you to reduce your printing costs while maintaining high quality and great color reproduction. Easy to install and easy to buy online!

Sales and Availability

Media Sciences products are carried by online resellers, as well as office supply and office equipment dealers, and are available to you 24/7. Our distributors support top fulfillment and service levels, so you are never out of toner. Our toner cartridges are trusted by top corporations and by thousands of home and small office users.

mediaSciences®
Imaging the World in Color™

A Growing Product Offering

Media Sciences offers a growing line of compatible laser toner cartridges for Brother, Dell, Hewlett Packard, Lexmark, Okidata, Samsung and Xerox printers and MFPs. We offer hundreds of new-build and remanufactured part numbers for many of the most popular color and monochrome printers in the world today.

Reliable Color and Monochrome Quality

Not all printer cartridges are created equal. The quality of compatible products can vary greatly. Media Sciences has a great reputation for providing toner supplies that deliver consistent print quality and performance. We have a state of the art lab that allows for a product development process that includes detailed product analysis, comprehensive lab evaluation, field testing and on-going performance reviews. That is why we confidently offer a two-year warranty on our products.

Why Pay More for Original When Media Sciences Provides Your Best Value?

There are many low-cost, compatible printer and MFP brands available, but we combine cost savings, high quality and great color reproduction. The Media Sciences brand is recognized as a leader in color print compatibles. Furthermore, we are the best option for MPS business accounts by providing quality products, an industry leading warranty and easy end-user installation.

Media Sciences is a Katun® Brand

Media Sciences' product offering continues to grow, and now includes many monochrome and color remanufactured cartridges as well. We are a Katun brand - a world leader in imaging parts and supplies. This enables us to offer a huge list of additional copier and MFP products under the Katun brand name. We are owned by GPI, a global printing industry leader. This alignment enables us to develop even more new products with great cost savings.

Learn More

To learn more about our growing product line, go to www.mediasciences.com.